The University of Miami Libraries along with the Educational Development Office is hosting:

Open Access, Predatory Journals, Impact Factors, Data Repositories: What Does It All Mean?

Presenters:

- Paige C. Morgan, Ph.D.
  Digital Scholarship Librarian & Scholarly Publishing Officer
  Otto G. Richter Library
  University of Miami

- John Reynolds, M.L.I.S., AHIP
  Research Librarian
  Louis Calder Memorial Library
  University of Miami Miller School of Medicine

- Zsuzsanna Nemeth, M.L.I.S.
  Research Librarian
  Louis Calder Memorial Library
  University of Miami Miller School of Medicine

- Cameron Riopelle, Ph.D.
  Data Services Librarian
  Otto G. Richter Library
  University of Miami

Date: Friday, October 26, 2018

Time: 12:00-1:00 p.m.

Location: Gordon Center Auditorium, Clinical Research Building (CRB)

TARGET AUDIENCE:

Faculty, Residents, Health Care Professionals and Trainees

CO-SPONSORED BY:

Michael S. Gordon Center for Research in Medical Education

At the end of this educational activity, participants will the able to:

- Review resources for legitimate Open-Access (OA) publishers
- Identify predatory journals
- Find resources for journal impact factors
- Choose the right data repositories
- Describe how OA can positively impact research and publishing

For additional information please contact Carmen Bou-Crick at 305-243-1967 or email cbou@miami.edu